BEACH TREE

Beach Tree, the pulse of the resort, where guests unwind, reconnect and celebrate at the ocean's edge, has transformed its interior and exterior spaces and introduces a dynamic new chef and new menu. Renowned for its signature style of "barefoot elegance," the restaurant has a Hawaiian beach house feel marked by 16-foot vaulted ceilings and expansive water views. New trellised seating provides for al fresco dining, and expanded outdoor lounge spaces set the stage for the perfect beachfront cocktail. New Chef de Cuisine Nick Mastrascusa, who joins Four Seasons Resort Hualalai from 57 Restaurant at Four Seasons Hotel New York, oversees a menu featuring the best of California with Italian influences.
